LOCAL MEN ACCUSED OF $40,000 FREIGHT THEFTS

NO RESUMPTION OF WORK IN DIST. NO. 2 FOR THE PRESENT

Only Watkins Firm and C. B. C. Men Ordered To Return; Also Small Independ't Operators.

MEETING MONDAY

There will be no resumption of mining in District No 2, comprising Clearfield, Indiana, Jefferson, Centre, Blair and adjacent counties for the present This is the decision of one hundred or more operators who met here yesterday to discuss the Cleveland agreement and take action as to its rejection or acceptance as a working scale until next April and as a basis for future negotiations with the United Mine Workers

The meeting was composed of the principal operators of both the Association of Bituminous Coal Operators and the Central Pennsylvania Producers Association; in fact every lareg producer in this field was present with the exception of T. H Watkins of the Pennsylvania Coal & Coke Corporation and Mr H B Douglass of the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Corporation, the former a party to the Cleveland scale and the latter a subsidiary of the New York Central Lines, which needs the coal to run their transportation system.

t the meeting the various provisions of the Cleveland agreement were taken up and discussed pro and con The wage and working condition paragraphs were but lightly touched upon, the principal topic of discussion being the provisions for reaching a new agreement to be effective next April It was the consensus of opinion and the general feeling that the acceptance of the Cleveland agreement would serve no good purpose except to start the production of coal.

Many disadvantages to this district were pointed out, principally the fact that every operator or association signing this scale would be duty bound to participate in the January scale-making conference at Cleveland and be compelled to accept the agreement there made without regard to its application to this district It is felt that the signing of this scale means the breaking up of all forms of district agreements and that this district would entirely lose its identity in the great national conference which would most certainly grow out of its general acceptance

The meeting heard a letter read from President Brophy of District No 2 in which they were invited to "call around" and sign up. The answer to this was a resolution to the effect that there could be no resumption of mining until "a scale" is negotiated for this district

However, in spite of this attitude, there is a spirit of co-operation manifested in an offer made to hold a joint meeting with the District No 2 officers at Altoona on Monday and the United Mine Workers' office at Clearfield today confirms the report that such a joint meeting will be held at Altoona on Monday It is believed that the matter of protecting the identity of District No 2 will be the only topic for discussion

he U M W of A office also advises that the Pennsylvania Coal & Coke C B C, and all other employes of companies which have signed the agreement were notified last evening to resume work immediately About twenty five individual operators in this district signed up today

RAIL SETTLEMENT AN IMPOSSIBILITY AT TODAY'S MEET

President Harding Lays Message Before Congress Telling Of Attempts to End Conflict.

STRONG MESSAGE

No Settlement Today

New York Aug 18—There is no prospect of the railroad strike being settled today Warren P Stone declared at the conclusion of the morning peace conference between railroad executives and union leaders Stone added, however that he was optimistic that the present conference eventually would bring about a settlement Immediately after the morning session the opposing factions went into separate sessions Another joint conference was expected to start at 4:00 P M

Washington D C Aug 18—President Harding today placed before Congress the critical situation caused by the twin coal and rail strikes

Appearing before a joint session of Congress the President after reciting the effort of the Administration to bring peace to the coal industry and to the transportation systems declared that he was resolved to use all the powers of the Government to maintain transportation and safeguard the right of men to work

Washington D C Aug 18—The President recommended "Immediate provision for a temporary national coal agency with needed capital to purchase sell and distribute coal which is carried in interstate bu

The outstanding points of President Hardings message to Congress on the rail and coal situation were

The declaration that the Executive is resolved to maintain transportation and the rights of men to work

The immediate creation of a Federal coal agency with a big revolving fund to produce huge amounts of coal for interstate shipments to prevent profiteering

The establishment of a Federal Coal Commission to make a complete investigation of the industry so as to prevent another coal strike next April

Enactment of legislation later to give the Railroad Labor Board power to enforce its decree

Broader powers to the Federal Government so that it may punish those responsible for such outbreaks as the Herrin butchery

Warning that the law against conspiracy to restrain interstate commerce and other statute will be strictly enforced

Denunciation of the move of some employers to crush labor unions

Deterioration of locomotives and the non compliance with the safety laws are threatening to break down transportation

ment He said the agency might not be needed but would be the immediate for guarding public where private conscience is me to a public need

Railroad Labor Board should be empowered to enforce its decrees between capital and labor, but he favored the retention of the with its collective bargaining which he helpful in the

GRAMPIAN SQUIRE HAS NEW EVIDENCE; ASKS A NEW TRIAL

Joseph Fleming of Grampian, who was convicted of embezzlement at May term of Court and sentenced by Judge Whitmore of Williamsport, recently pro ddin to pay $300 fine and serve 20 days jail filed an application for a new trial yesterday In his statement filed Mr Fleming set forth that his conviction was brought about by the testimony of the prosecution on the stand that he had never had anything with P D Dietz & Co the bankrupt Philadelphia broker who handled the transaction which resulted in the loss of the money alleged to have been embezzled when a matter of fact he had been dealing with the firm and when fact Mr Fleming was unable to show at that time because of the firm having gone bankrupt

He further sets he had no intention in the transaction leading to the investment of the $300 in question, but simply took the money and turned it over to his son for investment and on the grounds of evidence he has since secured he asks for a new trial

But five days of the sentence had been served when Mr Fleming was paroled

LEGION BAND GETS GREAT OVATION AT DUBOIS CONVENTION

Morrisdale Miners Band also Comes in for High Praise From People Who Attended Meet.

GIVE A SERENADE

(From DuBois Courier)

The band concert at the Municipal Park last evening drew a crowd of several thousand people, and those in attendance heard some exceptionally fine music Three bands entered the contest — American Legion, Clearfield Morrisdale, and Johnsonburg Each band played one selection and the judges made their decision on the all around ability shown After the conclusion of the contest the decisions were announced as follows

The music by the various bands at the Firemen's convention was a fine feature of the day, there being four organizations present They were Legion band of Clearfield, Morrisdale, Johnsonburg and the Italian American bands All of these bands were very liberal with their music and delighted large crowds wherever they stopped to play The Clearfield band was awarded the prize for the best musical organization in the parade And those who heard their playing fully agreed with the decision of the judges The Clearfield band is a decidedly superior organization of players and the quality of music furnished by its members proved a constant delight to everyone who heard its music The band will compete with other state bands for the honor of going to New Orleans to the national convention of the American Legion, and any band that takes precedence over it will have to be an unusually well balanced and trained aggregation The Legion band knows music and knows how to play it—DuBois Courier

First prize—American Legion, Clearfield
Second—Morrisdale
Third—Johnsonburg.

One of the judges stated afterward that the playing of Morrisdale and Clearfield left little to choose between the two so far as concert work went, but the Clearfield band made the highest score, coming through with an unusually high mark.

Following the contest the victorious Clearfield band marched over town and serenaded the Courier office, entertaining a crowd of several

"Big Jim" Mulvahill Accuses Distillers Of Cheat And Defrauding

Philadelphia, Aug 18—Charged with conspiracy to cheat and defraud George P Davis, owner of the Monongahela Truck and Machine Company at Pittsburg, of $75 000 in a whiskey deal, two men are being held here today, each on $10,000 bail The men under arrest are John Sinnott, president of the Gibson Distillery Company, and Nathan Musher, president of the Continental Distilling Company The case is one of long standing and involves the purchase of 15,000 cases of rye whiskey in 1920 by 'Big Jim' Mulvahill, Democratic boss of Pittsburg Mulvahill said a check for $75,000 was drawn by him which was later endorsed by the Gibson Distilling Company, he said, and deposited to its account in Washington The liquor was never delivered, Mulvahill said, and when he asked Sinnott for an explanation he was told that Musher had arranged the details

ROTARY HEARS SHORT ADDRESSES

Thirty five members of the Rotary Club attended the regular weekly meeting at the club at the Hotel Jordan last evening Short talks were made by Rev Hatch, of the Episcopal church, Rev C E Cook of Blansville, Pa, G A Stewart and W P Sheeder

President Bigler announced that the date for the reception to be tendered the DuBois and Philipsburg clubs had been decided on for September 14th.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT

Local friends of Miss Olive M Dinges and Lex R Miller, popular Clearfield young people were surprised to learn that they had slipped quietly up to Bradford, Pa, and had the words said which made them man and wife.

The ceremony was performed on Tuesday, May 23rd last, and the announcement through the mail this morning was the first intimation their many friends had of the happy occurrence

Several former Clearfield people are said to be involved in a series of wholesale raids on freight cars in the railroad yards at Cleveland, Ohio, in the past few weeks, according to Harold Fisher, a New York Central railroad detective who spent the past couple of days in Clearfield in an attempt to locate some merchandise stolen from one of the cars and which had been shipped here by express.

Detective Fisher, aided by Deputy Sheriff Hummelbaugh, located some of the stuff which consisted of several valuable rugs, yesterday afternoon and took it back to Cleveland with him last evening.

Total $40,000.

According to Fisher's story no less than one hundred different freight cars were broken into in the Cleveland yards Saturday night. Railroad and city detectives took up the trail of the thieves and Sunday afternoon raided the home of Engineer Long, on Cleveland Heights, a fashionable residential section of the lake city, and after arresting Lee Linsenbigler, Sherwood Cramer, a Lake Shore engineer named Jones, who used to run to Clearfield, recovered silks, dress goods and other merchandise valued at more than $20,000, all of which it is alleged, was stolen from freight cars.

Loot Shipped Here

Linsenbigler and Cramer were former Clearfielders, the former having moved his family to Cleveland but a couple of months ago.

A package of merchandise was shipped by express to local relatives and Detective Fisher traced it here and found the goods had been received by relatives of Linsenbigler and Cramer here. A search was made of the home of Mrs. Annie Cramer on Dorey street, but no goods were found there. Later Ted Cramer a brother of Sherwood Cramer and brotherinlaw of Linsenbigler, was picked up by the officers and after a grilling admitted having received the goods and took Messrs Fisher, Lowell and Deputy Hummelsbaugh to a cornfield on the Kurtz farm at Clearfield Creek, where he produced the stolen rugs

Detective Fisher stated that a man named Shoemaker and a Railroad detective at Cleveland were in the gang with the freight car robbers, which enabled them to carry on their operations on such an extensive scale

Million Dollar Fire in Railroad Yards

Officials of the New York Central Railroad are cooperating with officials of Gotham's fire department in seeking the cause of a fire that destroyed 80 loaded freight cars and caused $1,000,000 damage in the North River yards, New York City. Here fire tugs are shown trying to save a warehouse on the pier.

bing the gang also engaged in wholesale automobile thefts, paying particular attention to Ford coupes The cars would be stolen off the streets of Cleveland and then driven to other towns and disposed of

Sold Four Cars Here

Before leaving Clearfield Linsenbigler engaged quite extensively in second hand car trafficking. He sold Ford coupes to S. C. Watts, of Curwensville; Lawrence Rougeux, Robert Leavy and Robert Gray and Detective Fisher says he is of the opinion that all of these cars were stolen in Cleveland He also found a Chandler car which had been stored here by Linsenbigler for more than a year also a Studebaker and it is thought these cars were stolen also.

The detective took the numbers of the cars mentioned back to Cleveland with him and will check up on them there in an effort to establish their having been stolen from that city.

The Ford purchasers were all interviewed and notified that their cars were likely to have been stolen and to stand ready to turn them back to their owners if such proves to be the case. In case owners are found for the cars the gentlemen named will be out their money paid for the cars.

A series of significant difficulties over trivial events has convinced

MARK SABRE a well educated Englishman that after eight years of married life he is almost completely estranged from his prosaic and snobbish wife

MABEL He seeks refuge in the company of his eccentric neighbors Mr Fargus and the Perches"—

YOUNG PERCH and his invalid mother

Suddenly an old friend returns to his life He friend is

NONA an old sweetheart now the wife of the dashing

LORD TYBALT

Sabre's inability to find sympathy at home is duplicated in the office of Fortune East and Sabre where he has charge of the publishing department He dreams of writing a history of England and has been promised full partnership in the firm Suddenly his hopes are blasted when

TWYNING a rival in coal trade announces that he has been installed the partnership by Fortune chief shareholder

GO ON WITH THE STORY

Sabre uttered a single word "Good"

Twyning's face darkened again and darkened worse He spoke also but a single word 'Thanks' He turned sharply on his heel and went to the door

'I say, Twyning!' Sabre jumped to his feet and went to Twyning with outstretched hand 'I didn't mean to take it like that Don't think I'm not—I congratulate you Jolly good Splendid I tell you what—I don't mind telling you—it was a bit of a smack in the eye for me for a moment You know I've rather sweated over this business—his glance indicated the stacked bookshelves the firm's publications See what I mean'

A certain movement in his throat and about his mouth indicated more than his words what he meant A slight

Twyning took the hand and gripped it with a firmness characteristic of his handshake

Thanks old man Thanks awfully. Of course I know what you mean"

Outside the door he clenched his hands He thought Smack in the eye for you was it' You'll get a damn sight worse smacks in the eye one of these days Dirty dog"

II

Immediately the door was closed Sabre went what he would have called 'plug in' to Mr Fortune that is to say without hesitation and without reflection

'I've just heard that you've told Twyning you're going to take him into partnership'

The whale like front gave a sudden leap and quivel precisely as if it had been struck by a cricket ball Mr Fortune's voice hardened very remarkably 'As to that I will permit myself two remarks In the first place, I consider it highly reprehensible of Twyning to have communicated this to you—'

Sabre broke in 'Well he didn't I inferred it It seems I inferred correctly'

There flashed through Mr Fortune's mind a poignant regret that this being the case he had not denied it He said 'I am exceedingly glad to hear it'

Sabre despite his private feelings in the matter characteristically followed this reasoning completely and said so 'Yes that's one way of looking at it sir and I don't say it isn't perfectly sound from your point of view—

Mr Fortune broke in heavily solemnly 'I am obliged to you

Out with it people look at things in the face of them just as they appear You know it's difficult to explain it very but my heart into Sir I don't quite explain it but I feel that the slight or what looks like a slight is on them not on me He put his hand to the back of his head a habit characteristic when he was embarrassed or perplexed I'm afraid I'm not quite expressing myself with

No I can see that is a little heavy going and Mr Fortune smoothed his head and they remained for some minutes

A sudden and unearthly moan could through the room Mr Fortune turned him ill with relief to his desk and applied his lips to a bell push

Sabre rose Himself and stood up abruptly Ah well All right sir

III

Sabre again on his own side hopped into his cloth In his eyes was the look that had been in them when I had tried to explain to Mr Fortune about the locks what Mr Fortune had rounded he found a little beyond him He thought The look of course Fortune hasn't learned them on them grow

But it hurt Like hell it hurts And I can't explain to him how I feel about them I can't explain it myself

This thoughts no doubt I've been twelve years in the firm Twelve years we've been dad to Her and when

THE WHALE LIKE FRONT GAVE A SUDDEN QUIVER AND MR FORTUNE'S VOICE HARDENED REMARKABLY

I said that about the locks I sat there and he sat there—and just looked at each other like mutes Mute! I sit behind my desk and he sits behind his and that's all we do Twelve months out And there are thousands of people in thousands of offices thousands of firms just the same All their locks Mysterious places Introduced

I thought All looking for something You can't see it in half a second Looking for what? Perhaps But I have to Happiness Love Life Life's locks But with

I'll tell his brows It goes like that that It's me that's wanting Is it wrong that religion ought to be Life Life Some new Life Is there only one certainty in religion Life Light

He thought with to Mabel

Upon which impulse he looked at his watch Only just after twelve I'll catch him in time for lunch By the day after this and left as he had left her that morning They could have a jolly afternoon together He could make it a jolly afternoon Notes kept coming into his thoughts—and maybe so after this Evening Evening He would have Mabel Him to Dinner this

He wrote and told Mr Fortune he rather thought of taking the afternoon off if he was not wanted He stood his pen over and rode purposefully back to Mabel

I

"ANYTHING for me Purup?" Sabre cried the postman as he arrived at Penny Greens One Mr Sabre'

Sabre took the letter and glanced at the handwriting

It was from Mark

Her small neat masculine script had once been familiar to him as his own It was curiously like his own in build the lack of not quite all the I's dotted

He glanced at it regarded it for "a little longer" than a glance and with a little puzzle of brows and lip then made the action of putting it unopened in his pocket Then he rode the bicycle to the his lips and opened her letter

South Tuesday She ever did write letters He used to be always telling her about that But it was so today

Dear Mate We're back We've been from Cuzco to Peru—almost Come and see us today and be bored about it How are our sons

He thought Funny she didn't mention she'd written just now Perhaps he thought it was funny I didn't say I'd had it I must tell her'

He returned her letter to its envelope and put the envelope in his pocket He rode on and the bicycle to his side He smiled Mabel will be surprised at me back like this

Mabel was standing the steps as he entered the hall In the white dress she wore she had a pleasant picture against the dark shallow stairway and the darker hall But she did not at all pleasantly pleased to see him with delight

Why should she be It's just it That's why I love her

But she greeted him Have we forgotten something

He smiled happily No I've just come back I suddenly thought we'd have afternoon

She showed pleasure A holiday What about office All of you?

She had run down three steps from the foot of the stairs her right hand on the banisters

His wife

He slid his hand up the rail and rested it on his Good Lord no Not the office No I suddenly thought we'd have a holiday You and I

If half he she would respond to the touch of his hand by turning the palm of her to it But he thought Why should she and she did not she said But how exactly what I want

She turned with unenthusiastic speed over it she asked Well what are you going to do

He wished he had thought of some plan as he came along What time's lunch Come on we'll cut the flowers

II

She cut the full rose and held it to her lips Lovely Who was your letter from Mark'

He thought I wonder did she know He had forgotten it him How could you know' From Mr Tybalt They're back

He looked out the window with the fortune Only Mabel What ever was she writing to you about'

He oh how not like this Why what's And being what I was what is she he remembered he had filled it out with the first half that in his pocket and that's all out Then And why not What's in a name' Mabel did not particularly like Nona He said he'd to the post Nona She wants us to stop there

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Principal railroad of the United State, despite nation wide troubles are enjoying fourfold returns 50 per cent greater than a year ago, according to official Commission

Net operating income of the road totaled $76 170 000 in June for which period official reports are just available This is an increase of more than 50 per cent over June 1921 when net operating income amounted to but $50,186,000

A return of 4 72 per cent on the tentative valuation of the railroads is indicated by the June 1922, net operating income reported In the same month of 1921 the return was 01 per cent

The road are carrying approximately 10 per cent more freight than a year ago the official report however despite the falling off in coal shipments due to the miners' strike The volume of other kinds of freight loaded increased 2 per cent during the five weeks ended June 0, in comparison with the corresponding period of 1921

The actual financial effect of the strike of railroad shopmen will not be known until September when the official reports for July are available Preliminary reports indicate however that this strike will have but little more effect upon the June figures than has the coal strike

[illegible] the financial [illegible] [illegible] ment for that month [illegible] a total comes only 20 per cent in their tentative valuation They say that after the February earnings showed an increase of 5 per cent in March a record of 8 per cent was reported The war the high month April showed [illegible]

thousand people by its snappy playing

Undoubtedly in the American Legion band Clearfield has an organization reminiscent of the old Irish Regiment band one that has no superior in the state When one hears the Legion band play he really recognizes that he is listening to a band that has had thorough training and directing, a band that is composed of members who understand music and how to play it The band is directed by Prof H Clark Thayer, head of the Susquehanna College of Music Mr Thayer was the leader of the Canton, Ohio band when McKelvey conducted his famous porch concerts, and had built up a great organization He has used the same successful plans in organization at Clearfield as at Canton and has attained the same notable results

WHEN LIFE WAS SIMPLE

Unless it has something to do with airplanes or motor cars or with the more vigorous and spectacular games like tennis or base ball, it is not likely that the announcement of a coming national tournament will get much attention from us. And when we learn that the tournament in question is to decide the national championship in horseshoe pitching we are inclined to yield it even less than passing notice.

In an age when we demand for diversion nothing short of headspins on the wings of a rushing airplane; when a game of auto polo is an ordinary occurrence only occasionally thrilling us, and when a ball player has to be a consistent home run hitter, we are not likely to wax enthusiastic over horseshoe pitching.

And yet, this ancient pastime is not without its merits. More keenly than ever should it today challenge our attention, for it goes back to a time when life was simpler. It carries us to remote countrysides and lanes at a time when the noise of the world was barely making itself heard even in the great cities. Quiet days those! when men got their exercise at their work, and didn't find it necessary, as men do now, to work at their play.

The game of horseshoes satisfied to the full the simple desires of a simple life. It did not take years of mose exacting toil to perfect one's self in it; one improved with practice, of course; one may become exceedingly skilful at it, but the nerve-racking apprenticeship required for perfection in a game like tennis, for instance, is not needed to enjoy pitching horseshoes.

It recommends itself to the novice and to the master; to old and to young. It stimulates an easy-going interest; its leisurely pace permits of conversation running into amiable channels of every sort. It is associated not with thronging multitudes jeering an opposing player or luckless umpire, but with individuals engaged in talk while the happy hours go by.

As such the game of horseshoes is a restatement of a view of life and manner of living now rapidly going from among us. We are glad that a national tournament is coming off in Iowa this month. It will be in some way an assurance that the good old times may be brought back occasionally.

BOOZE AND AUTO WRECKS

No newspaper reader who follows the shocking increase in automobile accidents can escape the conviction that a very large proportion is due to liquor in one way or another. The liquor may be in the driver or in the machine which is wrecker or the wrecked machine may be the result of liquor in the car which did the damage.

The accident may be a skid or a collision with a post. It may be the result of heedless approach to a railroad or trolley crossing which ends in death or injury, but no matter what form the accident or casualty should make, the amazing thing is that liquor figures in such a high proportion of cases.

Many times the newspapers at the moment fail to learn that booze has been a contributing factor in the smash-up, but inquiry shows a surprisingly larger number of automobile misfortunes due to drink.

To all motorists and to all pedestrians who use the highways this is a condition that may well cause apprehension. Wife-beating, industrial inefficiency, pauperism, crime, are among the causes that prompted this nation to establish prohibition. Reckless autoists provide still another reason. Bad as the situation is, can the melee of auto accidents be conceived if the old grog shops were running as they once were?

No Resumption Of Work

of the Lord Collieries Company, at Curtisville voted three to one against returning to work until other operators in the vicinity signed the Cleveland agreement

Fagan Makes Statement.

Pittsburg, Pa, Aug 18—Coal operators producing 12,000 000 tons of Western Pennsylvania district's annual tonnage of 15,000 000 tons of coal have signed contracts for immediate resumption of work P T Fagan acting president of District No 5, U M W of A, announced today Fagan said these mines could produce a quarter million tons of coal per week in normal times

Regional Coal Distributing Committees Selected.

Harrisburg, Pa, Aug 18—The seven regional committees to control the distribution of fuel under the direction of the State Fuel Commission have been elected and are ready to function The personnel of the commission will be announced soon More bituminous coal was moved by rail road yesterday than at any time since early May according to the report of the commission The commission today was engaged in perfecting organization plans for the distribution of anthracite coal when production reaches normal again

Chicago Aug 17—Illinois coal operators today definitely had accepted the proposal of Frank Farrington head of the Illinois miners' union, for a joint conference of operators and miners here tomorrow but spokesmen for the operators were not optimistic over the outcome of the meeting

"If Farrington will agree to our original proposition—for the miners to resume work immediately under the present wage scale and the questions of the wage scale of 1923, of working conditions, the checkoff, etc to be left to arbitration, peace will be made and coal mined immediately in the state" Dr I C Honnold, secretary of the Illinois Coal Operators Association declared "If this proposal is not accepted, I look for a deadlock"

W Va Operators to Meet Unions

Charleston, W Va, Aug 17—Directors of the Kanawha Coal Operators Association today accepted an invitation for a wage conference as presented to them by C Frank Keeny president of District No 17, United Mine Workers Members of the association said there had been no change in its principles, one of which is opposition to the checkoff

The Cleveland agreement does not affect the New River field "one way or the other" Tom I Davis, secretary of the New River Operators Association declared He said no invitation had been extended by union officials for a conference with the New River operators either as an association or as individuals and added that if one were extended he did not believe any attention would be paid to it

Small Kansas Operators Sign

Pittsburg Kan, Aug 17 Agreements have been signed with five coal mine operating companies for the resumption of work it was announced today by George I Peck provisional president of the Kansas district, United Mine Workers of America

Mr Peck said that the mines affected would eventually employ 300 men

It is probable that actual digging of coal will begin tomorrow or Saturday

Indiana Resumption Awaits Parley

Terre Haute, Ind, Aug 17—General resumption of coal mining in Indiana now awaits the conference of the sale committee of the Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators' Association and officials of District No 11, United Mine Workers which is to be held here next Monday at 10 a m Work may be started today in some of the mines controlled by operators who attended the Cleveland conference and signed the agreement negotiated there but as yet no members of the operators' association have indicated any intention of signing in advance of the meeting Monday

Maryland Oprators to Reject Parley.

Cumberland, Md, Aug 17—A request for a conference with the operators of the Georges Creek and Upper Potomac fields with the view to reaching an agreement, sent out last night by Francis J Drum, president, and S T Wetherholt, acting secretary District No 16, United Mine Workers the date to be fixed by the operators will be ignored, according to expressions of operators generally

The coal operators of the Thick Vein Freeport Seam of Pennsylvania representing, it is said a production of 10,000,000 tons annually, yesterday declined the invitation of the United Mine Workers officials for District 5, to meet in joint conference to negotiate a wage scale on the basis of the Cleveland agreement

All the tonnage of this association was represented at the meeting and this statement of their unanimous action was sent to P T Fagan, acting president of District 5

"Referring to your telegram of August 16 inviting the operators of the Coal Operators Association of the Thick Vein Freeport Seam of Pennsylvania to meet with your representatives to negotiate a supplemental wage agreement on the basis decided upon at Cleveland August 15 Your invitation is declined, as this association cannot negotiate a wage scale on the basis proposed, but is still ready and willing to meet your district organization for the purpose of arriving at a wage scale without the checkoff.

C W. Gibbs, secretary, signed for the association

80 Per Cent of Output Represented

This action follows a similar one taken by the Pittsburgh Coal Producers Association, Wednesday, when they refused to treat on any basis but one involving the miners in District 5 designating the Cleveland joint conference basic scale as resultant from a "rump convention" The two associations of operators produce 80 per cent of the coal mined in the Pittsburgh district

GOLF MATCH

Clearfield Curwensville Country Club
vs
Tyrone Country Club

The golf match played yesterday afternoon at Tyrone between the Clearfield Curwensville Country Club and the Tyrone Country Club was a victory for Tyrone The final count gave Tyrone a lead over Clearfield by eight points

Those representing the Clearfield club were George Griffin, H A Kennedy, Robert Kennedy, William Bigler, Mr Lockard, Lawrence Howe, William Leitzinger D W Powell G B Reed, I C Meyer R D Thompson H I Hartswick and Judge J W Reed

A dinner was given by the Tyrone club at the Hotel Arlington after the match to the players

BIG TIME AT REEDSVILLE

Yesterday was a gala day for the Reedsville play ground Surprises followed each other in quick succession all afternoon

To begin the fun a picture man arrived who snapped several films of pictures, taking the children on the apparatus in groups and singly He got many cute poses

Following this, during the very warmest part of the afternoon a huge freezer of ice cream a companied by a box of cones arrived The kiddies soon forgot that the thermometer hovered near the century mark

The climax of pleasure was reached when a soldier of the World War told thrilling tales of air raids bomb throwing coolies and sang French songs Strange to say, altho they did not understand a single word of French the French songs made a decided hit and was the most popular of all

It's Singin' That Hurts

When a man of sixty gets into a reminiscent mood he can be forgiven for recalling the songs of his youth If he doesn't try to sing them to the Sorority Ball

CURWENSVILLE

In the early hours of Thursday morning several unknown persons visited Gates Hardware. They were frightened away by Officer Edward Norris before they could get away with the goods that they had stacked on the counters

It seemed that they had intended to use Dr. King's car to convey the goods to different surroundings. The machine was found yesterday morning parked on the alley back of Dotts & Bartelle' Garage. Luckily there was no loss. Our special officer is to be congratulated on his excellent work.

Mr O H Peightol and daughter Grace of Philipsburg are visiting at the home of Mr and Mrs. Ai. McNaul on State street.

Mr and Mrs John Pifer and daughter spent Thursday afternoon and evening at DuBois.

Joke Kantar, Claude Bloom, Douglas Dunsmore and Clarence Ammerman went to Altoona yesterday to help celebrate "Old Hoe Week"

On account of the balmy day many people gathered at Irvin Park to enjoy the Thursday Picnic. The kiddies surely enjoyed the new swings that have been erected. Many other fine improvements have been made. The tables and benches which some of our great citizens erected are a great comfort to all.

The Industrial and Community Association are contributing as their donation to the Park the concreting and fixing of the spring In a short time this Park is going to be one of which we can be very proud.

Mrs. Leshe tSewart and daughter Elizabeth, of Clearfield, spent Thursday with Mrs. Stewart's daughter, Mrs. Frank Hastings.

Mrs Edwin B Hayes and son Edwin, Jr., of New York, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs Fred J. Dyer.

Walter Korb, and James Calhoun of DuBois were Curwensville visitors yesterday.

RAIL SETTLEMENT

ment, losses to shippers and strike violence, added to the inability of the Railroad Labor Board to enforce its decrees, said it was not his thought to ask Congress to deal with these fundamental problems at this time. No hasty action would contribute to the conclusion of the present situation, the President said.

There is existing law by which to settle the prevailing dispute; there are statutes forbidding conspiracy to hinder interstate commerce; there are laws to assure the highest possible safety in railway service. It is my purpose to invoke these laws, civil and military, against all offenders alike.

Turning to the coal situation the President said, "the simple but significant truth is that except by such coal as comes from the districts worked by unorganized miners the country is at the mercy of the United Mine Workers of America."

New York, N. Y, Aug. 18.—Brotherhood leaders and carrier executives entered into conference at 10:30 a. m, hopeful of wresting rail peace from the long drawn out shopmen's dispute before they next adjourn Warren F Stone, spokesman for the workers, declared he was particularly optimistic for a settlement as the parley started.

New York, Aug. 18.—Railway executives and Brotherhood chiefs yesterday wrestled with the problem of settling the strike without a fall and then adjourned until today.

Today while President Harding is expected to appear before Congress with a message on the situation, the conferees will reassemble in an effort to come to grips on the question of seniority.

It was a day of conferences—conferences yesterday morning among the chiefs—in the afeernoon between chiefs and executives. Last evening between chiefs and union leaders.

The first gathering over which Warren S. Stone presided, was called for the ostensible purpose of framing a concrete program to be submitted to the railroad executives at their conference in the afternoon. The brotherhood chiefs made it plain that their position in the drama was solely that of mediation and went into the afternoon parley at the headquarters of the executives without breathing a word of the proposed settlement which they were believed to have fixed upon.

But if the train service men were silent, representatives of the craftsmen, massed in an uptown hotel, made it plain that they did not believe any proposal would be made by the running trades which would include a sacrifice of their seniority rights.

SUIT ENTERED

Joseph G. Steel of DuBois, by his attorney J. A. Gleason, entered suit in the Clearfield county courts this morning against the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Railway company for $10,000 damages for personal injuries received when an automobile in which he was riding was struck by one of the defendant company's trains at the Washington avenue and Franklin street crossing in DuBois.

The accident occurred December 22d, 1921. Steel was riding in an automobile owned and being driven by Dr. J. I. Brookbank, of DuBois. Steel had his spine injured, received a fractured pelvic bone and other serious injuries. He is a mechanical engineer and at ehe time of the accident was employed by the city of DuBois. He alleges his injuries are permanent.

HORSE AND DOG WERE ALLIES IN THIS ROMANCE OF THE WEST

"Come," the barker called, "your Lucy is in peril" —and on flying feet "Wildfire" bore him to her rescue.

When Romance Rides

A ZANE GREY PICTURE WITH Claire Adams Carl Gantvoort AND Jean Hersholt Adapted from the Novel "WILDFIRE" By ZANE GREY DISTRIBUTED BY GOLDWYN

DRIGGS THEATRE TONIGHT

A BENJAMIN B. HAMPTON PRODUCTION

Unconscious, and alone but for his guardian dog, Lucy found The Man—the man who had captured the wild horse that had eluded all others.

And then, one of her father's horses stolen, another poisoned, the girl carried the family colors to victory—for "Wildfire," creature of the forests and the plains, gave his all—for he knew what victory meant in love and happiness.

It's the most thrilling of motion pictures, with action only pausing for laughs and the heart grip of a wonderful love story that every woman would like for her very own.

As big as the great outdoors, as clean as nature itself, as pulsing with life as creatures of the wild—and with such a background an amazing love story.

It's the sort of a love story every woman would like for her own—that will give every man a thrill.

An amazing victory "Wildfire" wins, and Romance rides upon his back.

Even horses and dogs sensed their amazing romance—and made their happiness secure.

Its' a Zane Grey story—that means action—a clean atmosphere—a moving love story. And its' all that a motion picture should be.

"Wildfire" wins! And it was not alone the victory of the race, but of love and justice

Laughs follow thrills, but the grip of the heart holds until Romance has ridden its way to complete victory.

Your heart will beat to the clattering of racing horses' feet pulse with the deeds of the great outdoors, grip with the suspense of an amazing love story.

The best of fiction become real —vivid, sturdy, upstanding men —lovable understanding women —deeds that stir your blood, a romance that warms your heart.

One of her fathers' horses stolen, another "doped," set out of the wilds she brought a horse and won a victory—won for the family honor—and for the heart of her's, too.

Alone in the wilderness she found him, and gave him life and hope. From the wilds, too, he saved her and brought her back to the world and the fullness of love.

A story of an unbeatable horse—"Wildfire—and of romance that you will envy.

SECRET OF A GOOD DISPOSITION

A woman who carefully safeguards her health benefits her disposition she will be happy and attractive to all. The world unfortunately is filled with sweet women who are unhappy because they are held back from usefulness by troubles so common among them. Irritableness and nervousness rapidly destroy good disposition. Sickly, all worn out women cannot make happy homes.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a safeguard of women's health. This is clearly proven by the many letters we are continually publishing in this paper from women who have been restored to health and happiness by it, as after years of suffering. Why don't you try it?

LOCAL MEN ACCUSED OF $40,000 FREIGHT THEFTS

NO RESUMPTION OF WORK IN DIST. NO. 2 FOR THE PRESENT

Only Watkins Firm and C. B. C. Men Ordered To Return; Also Small Independ't Operators.

MEETING MONDAY

There will be no resumption of mining in District No 2, comprising Clearfield, Indiana, Jefferson, Centre, Blair and adjacent counties for the present This is the decision of one hundred or more operators who met here yesterday to discuss the Cleveland agreement and take action as to its rejection or acceptance as a working scale until next April and as a basis for future negotiations with the United Mine Workers

The meeting was composed of the principal operators of both the Association of Bituminous Coal Operators and the Central Pennsylvania Producers Association; in fact every lareg producer in this field was present with the exception of T. H Watkins of the Pennsylvania Coal & Coke Corporation and Mr H B Douglass of the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Corporation, the former a party to the Cleveland scale and the latter a subsidiary of the New York Central Lines, which needs the coal to run their transportation system.

t the meeting the various provisions of the Cleveland agreement were taken up and discussed pro and con The wage and working condition paragraphs were but lightly touched upon, the principal topic of discussion being the provisions for reaching a new agreement to be effective next April It was the consensus of opinion and the general feeling that the acceptance of the Cleveland agreement would serve no good purpose except to start the production of coal.

Many disadvantages to this district were pointed out, principally the fact that every operator or association signing this scale would be duty bound to participate in the January scale-making conference at Cleveland and be compelled to accept the agreement there made without regard to its application to this district It is felt that the signing of this scale means the breaking up of all forms of district agreements and that this district would entirely lose its identity in the great national conference which would most certainly grow out of its general acceptance

The meeting heard a letter read from President Brophy of District No 2 in which they were invited to "call around" and sign up. The answer to this was a resolution to the effect that there could be no resumption of mining until "a scale" is negotiated for this district

However, in spite of this attitude, there is a spirit of co-operation manifested in an offer made to hold a joint meeting with the District No 2 officers at Altoona on Monday and the United Mine Workers' office at Clearfield today confirms the report that such a joint meeting will be held at Altoona on Monday It is believed that the matter of protecting the identity of District No 2 will be the only topic for discussion

The U M W of A office also advises that the Pennsylvania Coal & Coke C B C, and all other employes of companies which have signed the agreement were notified last evening to resume work immediately About twenty five individual operators in this district signed up today

GRAMPIAN SQUIRE HAS NEW EVIDENCE; ASKS A NEW TRIAL

Joseph Fleming of Grampian, who was convicted of embezzlement at May term of Court and sentenced by Judge Whitmore of Williamsport, recently pro ddin to pay $300 fine and serve 20 days jail filed an application for a new trial yesterday In his statement filed Mr Fleming set forth that his conviction was brought about by the testimony of the prosecution on the stand that he had never had anything with P D Dietz & Co the bankrupt Philadelphia broker who handled the transaction which resulted in the loss of the money alleged to have been embezzled when a matter of fact he had been dealing with the firm and when fact Mr Fleming was unable to show at that time because of the firm having gone bankrupt

He further sets he had no intention in the transaction leading to the investment of the $300 in question, but simply took the money and turned it over to his son for investment and on the grounds of evidence he has since secured he asks for a new trial

LEGION BAND GETS GREAT OVATION AT DUBOIS CONVENTION

Morrisdale Miners Band also Comes in for High Praise From People Who Attended Meet.

GIVE A SERENADE

(From DuBois Courier)

The band concert at the Municipal Park last evening drew a crowd of several thousand people, and those in attendance heard some exceptionally fine music Three bands entered the contest — American Legion, Clearfield Morrisdale, and Johnsonburg Each band played one selection and the judges made their decision on the all around ability shown After the conclusion of the contest the decisions were announced as follows

The music by the various bands at the Firemen's convention was a fine feature of the day, there being four organizations present They were Legion band of Clearfield, Morrisdale, Johnsonburg and the Italian American bands All of these bands were very liberal with their music and delighted large crowds wherever they stopped to play The Clearfield band was awarded the prize for the best musical organization in the parade And those who heard their playing fully agreed with the decision of the judges The Clearfield band is a decidedly superior organization of players and the quality of music furnished by its members proved a constant delight to everyone who heard its music The band will compete with other state bands for the honor of going to New Orleans to the national convention of the American Legion, and any band that takes precedence over it will have to be an unusually well balanced and trained aggregation The Legion band knows music and knows how to play it—DuBois Courier

Second—Morrisdale
Third—Johnsonburg.

One of the judges stated afterward that the playing of Morrisdale and Clearfield left little to choose between the two so far as concert work went, but the Clearfield band made the highest score, coming through with an unusually high mark.

Following the contest the victorious Clearfield band marched over town and serenaded the Courier office, entertaining a crowd of several

FIND RUGS HIDDEN ON KURTZ FARM

Several former Clearfield people are said to be involved in a series of wholesale raids on freight cars in the railroad yards at Cleveland, Ohio, in the past few weeks, according to Harold Fisher, a New York Central railroad detective who spent the past couple of days in Clearfield in an attempt to locate some merchandise stolen from one of the cars and which had been shipped here by express.

Detective Fisher, aided by Deputy Sheriff Hummelbaugh, located some of the stuff which consisted of several valuable rugs, yesterday afternoon and took it back to Cleveland with him last evening.

Total $40,000.

According to Fisher's story no less than one hundred different freight cars were broken into in the Cleveland yards Saturday night. Railroad and city detectives took up the trail of the thieves and Sunday afternoon raided the home of Engineer Long, on Cleveland Heights, a fashionable residential section of the lake city, and after arresting Lee Linsenbigler, Sherwood Cramer, a Lake Shore engineer named Jones, who used to run to Clearfield, recovered silks, dress goods and other merchandise valued at more than $20,000, all of which it is alleged, was stolen from freight cars.

Loot Shipped Here

Linsenbigler and Cramer were former Clearfielders, the former having moved his family to Cleveland but a couple of months ago.

A package of merchandise was shipped by express to local relatives and Detective Fisher traced it here and found the goods had been received by relatives of Linsenbigler and Cramer here. A search was made of the home of Mrs. Annie Cramer on Dorey street, but no goods were found there. Later Ted Cramer a brother of Sherwood Cramer and brotherinlaw of Linsenbigler, was picked up by the officers and after a grilling admitted having received the goods and took Messrs Fisher, Lowell and Deputy Hummelsbaugh to a cornfield on the Kurtz farm at Clearfield Creek, where he produced the stolen rugs

Detective Fisher stated that a man named Shoemaker and a Railroad detective at Cleveland were in the gang with the freight car robbers, which enabled them to carry on their operations on such an extensive scale

bing the gang also engaged in wholesale automobile thefts, paying particular attention to Ford coupes The cars would be stolen off the streets of Cleveland and then driven to other towns and disposed of

Sold Four Cars Here

Before leaving Clearfield Linsenbigler engaged quite extensively in second hand car trafficking. He sold Ford coupes to S. C. Watts, of Curwensville; Lawrence Rougeux, Robert Leavy and Robert Gray and Detective Fisher says he is of the opinion that all of these cars were stolen in Cleveland He also found a Chandler car which had been stored here by Linsenbigler for more than a year also a Studebaker and it is thought these cars were stolen also.

The detective took the numbers of the cars mentioned back to Cleveland with him and will check up on them there in an effort to establish their having been stolen from that city.

The Ford purchasers were all interviewed and notified that their cars were likely to have been stolen and to stand ready to turn them back to their owners if such proves to be the case. In case owners are found for the cars the gentlemen named will be out their money paid for the cars.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

A series of significant difficulties over trivial events has convinced

MARK SABRE a well educated Englishman that after eight years of married life he is almost completely estranged from his prosaic and snobbish wife

MABEL He seeks refuge in the company of his eccentric neighbors Mr Fargus and the Perches"—

YOUNG PERCH and his invalid mother

Suddenly an old friend returns to his life He friend is

NONA an old sweetheart now the wife of the dashing

Sabre's inability to find sympathy at home is duplicated in the office of Fortune East and Sabre where he has charge of the publishing department He dreams of writing a history of England and has been promised full partnership in the firm Suddenly his hopes are blasted when

TWYNING a rival in coal trade announces that he has been installed the partnership by Fortune chief shareholder

GO ON WITH THE STORY

Sabre uttered a single word "Good"

Twyning's face darkened again and darkened worse He spoke also but a single word 'Thanks' He turned sharply on his heel and went to the door

'I say, Twyning!' Sabre jumped to his feet and went to Twyning with outstretched hand 'I didn't mean to take it like that Don't think I'm not—I congratulate you Jolly good Splendid I tell you what—I don't mind telling you—it was a bit of a smack in the eye for me for a moment You know I've rather sweated over this business—his glance indicated the stacked bookshelves the firm's publications See what I mean'

A certain movement in his throat and about his mouth indicated more than his words what he meant A slight

Twyning took the hand and gripped it with a firmness characteristic of his handshake

Thanks old man Thanks awfully. Of course I know what you mean"

Outside the door he clenched his hands He thought Smack in the eye for you was it' You'll get a damn sight worse smacks in the eye one of these days Dirty dog"

II

Immediately the door was closed Sabre went what he would have called 'plug in' to Mr Fortune that is to say without hesitation and without reflection

'I've just heard that you've told Twyning you're going to take him into partnership'

The whale like front gave a sudden leap and quivel precisely as if it had been struck by a cricket ball Mr Fortune's voice hardened very remarkably 'As to that I will permit myself two remarks In the first place, I consider it highly reprehensible of Twyning to have communicated this to you—'

Sabre broke in 'Well he didn't I inferred it It seems I inferred correctly'

There flashed through Mr Fortune's mind a poignant regret that this being the case he had not denied it He said 'I am exceedingly glad to hear it'

Sabre despite his private feelings in the matter characteristically followed this reasoning completely and said so 'Yes that's a fair way of looking at it sir and I don't say it isn't perfectly sound from your point of view—

Mr Fortune broke in hastily solemnly 'I am obliged to you

Out with it people look at things in the face of them just as they appear You know it's difficult to explain it very but my heart into Sabre I don't quite explain it but I feel that the slight or what looks like a slight is on them not on me He put his hand to the back of his head a habit characteristic when he was embarrassed or perplexed I'm afraid I'm not quite explicit enough'

No I can't say that is a little he added and Mr Fortune smoothed his head and they remained looking at one another

A sudden and unearthly moan could through the room Mr Fortune turned him ill with relief to his desk and applied his lips to a bell or gong tube

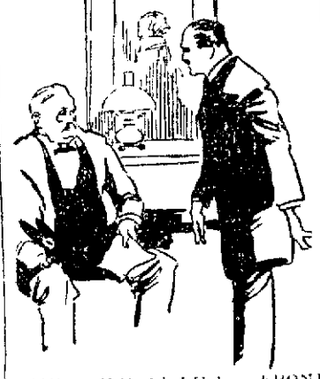
Sabre rose Himself and stood up abruptly Ah well All right sir

III

Sabre again on his own side hopped into his cloth In his eyes was the look that had been in them when I had tried to explain to Mr Fortune about the locks what Mr Fortune had rounded he found a little beyond him He thought The look of course Fortune hasn't learned them on them grow

But it hurt Like hell it hurts And I can't explain to him how I feel about them I can't explain it myself

This thoughts no doubt I've been twelve years in this Twelve years we've been dad to Her and when



THE WHALE LIKE FRONT GAVE A SUDDEN QUIVER AND MR FORTUNE'S VOICE HARD SOLDIERMARKABLY

I said that about the locks I sat there and he sat there—and just looked at each other like mutes Mute! I sit behind my desk and he sits behind his and that's all we do Twelve mortal hours! And there are thousands of people in thousands of offices thousands of hours just the same All their lives Mysterious lives Introspective

I thought All looking for something You can't see it in half an hour Looking for what? Looking for what? Looking for what? But I've had it here Happiness in their eyes But I've had it here Happiness in their hearts But I've had it here Happiness in their brows It goes deeper than that It's me and I'm thirty that's what it is Is it wrong that religion ought to be in the heart Is it? Some new religion Is there any certainty in religion in belief Light?

He thought will to Mabel

Upon which impulse he looked at his watch Only just after twelve I'll catch him in time for lunch My first day after this and left as he had left her that morning They could have a jolly afternoon together He could make it a jolly afternoon Notes kept coming into his thoughts—and maybe so after this Twenty minutes He would have Mabel in his thoughts

He wrote and told Mr Fortune he rather thought he'd take the afternoon off if he was not wanted He moved his eyes and rode purposefully back to Mabel

CHAPTER III

I

"ANYTHING for me Purup?" Sabre cried the postman as he arrived at Penny Greens One Mr Sabre'

Sabre took the letter and glanced at the handwriting

It was from Mark

Her small neat masculine script had once been familiar to him as his own It was curiously like his own in build the lack of not calling all the letters in a word

He glanced at it regarded it for "a little longer" than a glance and with a little pucker of brows and lip then made the action of putting it unopened in his pocket Then he rode the bicycle to the his lips and opened her letter

South Tuesday She ever did write letters He used to be always telling her about that But it was so today

Dear Mabel We're back We've been from Cuzco to Peru—almost Come and see us today and be bored about it How are our sons

He thought Funny she didn't mention she'd written just now Perhaps he thought it was funny I didn't say I'd had it I must tell her'

He returned her letter to its envelope and put the envelope in his pocket He rode on and the bicycle to his side He smiled Mabel will be surprised at me back like this

Mabel was standing the steps as he entered the hall In the white dress she wore she had a pleasant picture against the dark shallow stairway and the dark hall But she did not at all pleasantly pleased to see him with it right Why should she But it's just it That's why I rode back

But she greeted him Have one forgotten something

He smiled it hugely No I've just come back I suddenly thought we'd have afternoon

She showed pleasure A holiday What about office All of you'

She had run down three steps from the foot of the stairs her right hand on the banisters

His wife

He slid his hand up the rail and rested it on his Good Lord no Not the office No I suddenly thought we'd have a holiday You and I

If half he she would respond to the touch of his hand by turning the palm of her to it But he thought Why should she and she did not she said But how exactly Whatever for

She had descended and he moved along the hall with her towards the morning room

His letter extraordinary she said

She seemed wasn't enthusiastic over it she asked Well what are you going to do

He wished he had thought of some plan as he came along What time's lunch Come on we'll cut the flowers

II

She cut the full rose and held it to her lips Lovely Who was your letter from Mark'

He thought I wonder did she know He had forgotten it him How could you know' From Ty Yes they're back

He looked in the window with the fortune Only fair What ever was she writing to you about'

He oh how all not like this Why what's And being what I was what I still be remembered he had filled it out with the first half that in his pocket and then cut it out with And why not What harm Mabel did not particularly like Nona He said he'd to the theatre Yes She wants us to up there

Principal railroad of the United State, despite nation wide troubles are enjoying fourfold returns 50 per cent greater than a year ago, according to official Commission

Net operating income of the road totaled $76 170 000 in June for which period official reports are just available This is an increase of more than 50 per cent over June 1921 when net operating income amounted to but $50,186,000

A return of 4 72 per cent on the tentative valuation of the railroads is indicated by the June 1922, net operating income reported In the same month of 1921 the return was 01 per cent

The road are carrying approximately 10 per cent more freight than a year ago the official report however despite the falling off in coal shipments due to the miners' strike The volume of other kinds of freight loaded increased 2 per cent during the five weeks ended June 0, in comparison with the corresponding period of 1921

The actual financial effect of the strike of railroad shopmen will not be known until September when the official reports for July are available Preliminary reports indicate however that this strike will have but little more effect upon the June figures than had no coal strike

Musical Taste.

A walking tourist espied an old man seated in the doorway of a cottage, fiddling utterly regardless of time and tune Stopping for a while to listen in amusement, the tourist at last asked "When do you tune your violin?" "I don't," was the reply. "It don't sound right if I tune it."

WHEN LIFE WAS SIMPLE

Unless it has something to do with airplanes or motor cars or with the more vigorous and spectacular games like tennis or base ball, it is not likely that the announcement of a coming national tournament will get much attention from us. And when we learn that the tournament in question is to decide the national championship in horseshoe pitching we are inclined to yield it even less than passing notice.

In an age when we demand for diversion nothing short of headspins on the wings of a rushing airplane; when a game of auto polo is an ordinary occurrence only occasionally thrilling us, and when a ball player has to be a consistent home run hitter, we are not likely to wax enthusiastic over horseshoe pitching.

And yet, this ancient pastime is not without its merits. More keenly than ever should it today challenge our attention, for it goes back to a time when life was simpler. It carries us to remote countrysides and lanes at a time when the noise of the world was barely making itself heard even in the great cities. Quiet days those! when men got their exercise at their work, and didn't find it necessary, as men do now, to work at their play.

The game of horseshoes satisfied to the full the simple desires of a simple life. It did not take years of mose exacting toil to perfect one's self in it; one improved with practice, of course; one may become exceedingly skilful at it, but the nerve-racking apprenticeship required for perfection in a game like tennis, for instance, is not needed to enjoy pitching horseshoes.

It recommends itself to the novice and to the master; to old and to young. It stimulates an easy-going interest; its leisurely pace permits of conversation running into amiable channels of every sort. It is associated not with thronging multitudes jeering an opposing player or luckless umpire, but with individuals engaged in talk while the happy hours go by.

As such the game of horseshoes is a restatement of a view of life and manner of living now rapidly going from among us. We are glad that a national tournament is coming off in Iowa this month. It will be in some way an assurance that the good old times may be brought back occasionally.

BOOZE AND AUTO WRECKS

No newspaper reader who follows the shocking increase in automobile accidents can escape the conviction that a very large proportion is due to liquor in one way or another. The liquor may be in the driver or in the machine which is wrecked or the wrecked machine may be the result of liquor in the car which did the damage.

The accident may be a skid or a collision with a post. It may be the result of heedless approach to a railroad or trolley crossing which ends in death or injury, but no matter what form the accident or casualty should make, the amazing thing is that liquor figures in such a high proportion of cases.

Many times the newspapers at the moment fail to learn that booze has been a contributing factor in the smash-up, but inquiry shows a surprisingly larger number of automobile misfortunes due to drink.

To all motorists and to all pedestrians who use the highways this is a condition that may well cause apprehension. Wife-beating, industrial inefficiency, pauperism, crime, are among the causes that prompted this nation to establish prohibition. Reckless autoists provide still another reason. Bad as the situation is, can the melee of auto accidents be conceived if the old grog shops were running as they once were?

of the Lord Collieries Company, at Curtisville voted three to one against returning to work until other operators in the vicinity signed the Cleveland agreement

Fagan Makes Statement.

Pittsburg, Pa, Aug 18—Coal operators producing 12,000 000 tons of Western Pennsylvania district's annual tonnage of 15,000 000 tons of coal have signed contracts for immediate resumption of work P T Fagan acting president of District No 5, U M W of A, announced today Fagan said these mines could produce a quarter million tons of coal per week in normal times

Regional Coal Distributing Committees Selected.

Harrisburg, Pa, Aug 18—The seven regional committees to control the distribution of fuel under the direction of the State Fuel Commission have been elected and are ready to function The personnel of the commission will be announced soon More bituminous coal was moved by railroad yesterday than at any time since early May according to the report of the commission The commission today was engaged in perfecting organization plans for the distribution of anthracite coal when production reaches normal again

Chicago Aug 17 —Illinois coal operators today definitely had accepted the proposal of Frank Farrington head of the Illinois miners' union, for a joint conference of operators and miners here tomorrow but spokesmen for the operators were not optimistic over the outcome of the meeting

"If Farrington will agree to our original proposition—for the miners to resume work immediately under the present wage scale and the questions of the wage scale of 1923, of working conditions, the checkoff, etc to be left to arbitration, peace will be made and coal mined immediately in the state" Dr I C Honnold, secretary of the Illinois Coal Operators Association declared "If this proposal is not accepted, I look for a deadlock"

W Va Operators to Meet Unions

Charleston, W Va, Aug 17—Directors of the Kanawha Coal Operators Association today accepted an invitation for a wage conference as presented to them by C Frank Keeny president of District No 17, United Mine Workers Members of the association said there had been no change in its principles, one of which is opposition to the checkoff

The Cleveland agreement does not affect the New River field "one way or the other" Tom I Davis, secretary of the New River Operators Association declared He said no invitation had been extended by union officials for a conference with the New River operators either as an association or as individuals and added that if one were extended he did not believe any attention would be paid to it

Pittsburg Kan, Aug 17 Agreements have been signed with five coal mine operating companies for the resumption of work it was announced today by George I Peck provisional president of the Kansas district, United Mine Workers of America

Mr Peck said that the mines affected would eventually employ 300 men

It is probable that actual digging of coal will begin tomorrow or Saturday

Indiana Resumption Awaits Parley

Terre Haute, Ind, Aug 17—General resumption of coal mining in Indiana now awaits the conference of the sale committee of the Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators' Association and officials of District No 11, United Mine Workers which is to be held here next Monday at 10 a m Work may be started today in some of the mines controlled by operators who attended the Cleveland conference and signed the agreement negotiated there but as yet no members of the operators' association have indicated any intention of signing in advance of the meeting Monday

Maryland Oprators to Reject Parley.

Cumberland, Md, Aug 17—A request for a conference with the operators of the Georges Creek and Upper Potomac fields with the view to reaching an agreement, sent out last night by Francis J Drum, president, and S T Wetherholt, acting secretary District No 16, United Mine Workers the date to be fixed by the operators will be ignored, according to expressions of operators generally

The coal operators of the Thick Vein Freeport Seam of Pennsylvania representing, it is said a production of 10,000,000 tons annually, yesterday declined the invitation of the United Mine Workers officials for District 5, to meet in joint conference to negotiate a wage scale on the basis of the Cleveland agreement

All the tonnage of this association was represented at the meeting and this statement of their unanimous action was sent to P T Fagan, acting president of District 5

"Referring to your telegram of August 16 inviting the operators of the Coal Operators Association of the Thick Vein Freeport Seam of Pennsylvania to meet with your representatives to negotiate a supplemental wage agreement on the basis decided upon at Cleveland August 15 Your invitation is declined, as this association cannot negotiate a wage scale on the basis proposed, but is still ready and willing to meet your district organization for the purpose of arriving at a wage scale without the checkoff.

C W. Gibbs, secretary, signed for the association

80 Per Cent of Output Represented

This action follows a similar one taken by the Pittsburgh Coal Producers Association, Wednesday, when they refused to treat on any basis but one involving the miners in District 5 designating the Cleveland joint conference basic scale as resultant from a "rump convention" The two associations of operators produce 80 per cent of the coal mined in the Pittsburgh district

A dinner was given by the Tyrone club at the Hotel Arlington after the match to the players

BIG TIME AT REEDSVILLE

Yesterday was a gala day for the Reedsville play ground Surprises followed each other in quick succession all afternoon

To begin the fun a picture man arrived who snapped several films of pictures, taking the children on the apparatus in groups and singly He got many cute poses

Following this, during the very warmest part of the afternoon a huge freezer of ice cream a companied by a box of cones arrived The kiddies soon forgot that the thermometer hovered near the century mark

The climax of pleasure was reached when a soldier of the World War told thrilling tales of air raids bomb throwing coolies and sang French songs Strange to say, altho they did not understand a single word of French the French songs made a decided hit and was the most popular of all

It's Singin' That Hurts

When a man of sixty gets into a reminiscent mood he can be forgiven for recalling the songs of his youth If he doesn't try to sing them to the Somerville Journal

CURWENSVILLE

In the early hours of Thursday morning several unknown persons visited Gates Hardware. They were frightened away by Officer Edward Norris before they could get away with the goods that they had stacked on the counters

It seemed that they had intended to use Dr. King's car to convey the goods to different surroundings. The machine was found yesterday morning parked on the alley back of Dotts & Bartelle' Garage. Luckily there was no loss. Our special officer is to be congratulated on his excellent work.

Mr O H Peightol and daughter Grace of Philipsburg are visiting at the home of Mr and Mrs. Ai. McNaul on State street.

Mr and Mrs John Pifer and daughter spent Thursday afternoon and evening at DuBois.

Joke Kantar, Claude Bloom, Douglas Dunsmore and Clarence Ammerman went to Altoona yesterday to help celebrate "Old Hoe Week"

On account of the balmy day many people gathered at Irvin Park to enjoy the Thursday Picnic. The kiddies surely enjoyed the new swings that have been erected. Many other fine improvements have been made. The tables and benches which some of our great citizens erected are a great comfort to all.

The Industrial and Community Association are contributing as their donation to the Park the concreting and fixing of the spring In a short time this Park is going to be one of which we can be very proud.

Mrs. Leshe tSewart and daughter Elizabeth, of Clearfield, spent Thursday with Mrs. Stewart's daughter, Mrs. Frank Hastings.

Mrs Edwin B Hayes and son Edwin, Jr., of New York, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs Fred J. Dyer.

Walter Korb, and James Calhoun of DuBois were Curwensville visitors yesterday.

ment, losses to shippers and strike violence, added to the inability of the Railroad Labor Board to enforce its decrees, said it was not his thought to ask Congress to deal with these fundamental problems at this time. No hasty action would contribute to the conclusion of the present situation, the President said.

There is existing law by which to settle the prevailing dispute; there are statutes forbidding conspiracy to hinder interstate commerce; there are laws to assure the highest possible safety in railway service. It is my purpose to invoke these laws, civil and military, against all offenders alike.

Turning to the coal situation the President said, "the simple but significant truth is that except by such coal as comes from the districts worked by unorganized miners the country is at the mercy of the United Mine Workers of America."

New York, N. Y, Aug. 18.—Brotherhood leaders and carrier executives entered into conference at 10:30 a. m, hopeful of wresting rail peace from the long drawn out shopmen's dispute before they next adjourn Warren F Stone, spokesman for the workers, declared he was particularly optimistic for a settlement as the parley started.

New York, Aug. 18.—Railway executives and Brotherhood chiefs yesterday wrestled with the problem of settling the strike without a fall and then adjourned until today.

Today while President Harding is expected to appear before Congress with a message on the situation, the conferees will reassemble in an effort to come to grips on the question of seniority.

It was a day of conferences—conferences yesterday morning among the chiefs—in the afeernoon between chiefs and executives. Last evening between chiefs and union leaders.

The first gathering over which Warren S. Stone presided, was called for the ostensible purpose of framing a concrete program to be submitted to the railroad executives at their conference in the afternoon. The brotherhood chiefs made it plain that their position in the drama was solely that of mediation and went into the afternoon parley at the headquarters of the executives without breathing a word of the proposed settlement which they were believed to have fixed upon.

But if the train service men were silent, representatives of the craftsmen, massed in an uptown hotel, made it plain that they did not believe any proposal would be made by the running trades which would include a sacrifice of their seniority rights.

SUIT ENTERED

Joseph G. Steel of DuBois, by his attorney J. A. Gleason, entered suit in the Clearfield county courts this morning against the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Railway company for $10,000 damages for personal injuries received when an automobile in which he was riding was struck by one of the defendant company's trains at the Washington avenue and Franklin street crossing in DuBois.

The accident occurred December 22d, 1921. Steel was riding in an automobile owned and being driven by Dr. J. I. Brookbank, of DuBois. Steel had his spine injured, received a fractured pelvic bone and other serious injuries. He is a mechanical engineer and at ehe time of the accident was employed by the city of DuBois. He alleges his injuries are permanent.

Unconscious, and alone but for his guardian dog, Lucy found The Man—the man who had captured the wild horse that had eluded all others.

And then, one of her father's horses stolen, another poisoned, the girl carried the family colors to victory—for "Wildfire," creature of the forests and the plains, gave his all—for he knew what victory meant in love and happiness.

It's the most thrilling of motion pictures, with action only pausing for laughs and the heart grip of a wonderful love story that every woman would like for her very own.

As big as the great outdoors, as clean as nature itself, as pulsing with life as creatures of the wild—and with such a background an amazing love story.

It's the sort of a love story every woman would like for her own—that will give every man a thrill.

An amazing victory "Wildfire" wins, and Romance rides upon his back.

Even horses and dogs sensed their amazing romance—and made their happiness secure.

Its' a Zane Grey story—that means action—a clean atmosphere—a moving love story. And its' all that a motion picture should be.

"Wildfire" wins! And it was not alone the victory of the race, but of love and justice

Laughs follow thrills, but the grip of the heart holds until Romance has ridden its way to complete victory.

Your heart will beat to the clattering of racing horses' feet pulse with the deeds of the great outdoors, grip with the suspense of an amazing love story.

The best of fiction become real —vivid, sturdy, upstanding men —lovable understanding women —deeds that stir your blood, a romance that warms your heart.

One of her fathers' horses stolen, another "doped," set out of the wilds she brought a horse and won a victory—won for the family honor—and for the heart of her's, too.

Alone in the wilderness she found him, and gave him life and hope. From the wilds, too, he saved her and brought her back to the world and the fullness of love.

A story of an unbeatable horse—"Wildfire—and of romance that you will envy.

"Why Men Forget"

Do you realize that wealth unwisely used brings misery and grief?

This is a story of a man—blinded by sudden riches—who failed to see the good he could have done his mates.

The girl he loved, faithful through all, saved him from the men who once had been his friends.

See this great human drama. You will never forget its tremendous lesson.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. Nina Williams and family take this means of thanking their friends and neighbors for the many kindnesses shown them at the time of the death and funeral of their beloved little daughter and sister Alma Williams. The many kindnesses shown us upon this sad occasion will never be forgotten.

SECRET OF A GOOD DISPOSITION

A woman who carefully safeguards her health benefits her disposition she will be happy and attractive to all. The world unfortunately is filled with sweet women who are unhappy because they are held back from usefulness by troubles so common among them. Irritableness and nervousness rapidly destroy good disposition. Sickly, all worn out women cannot make happy homes.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a safeguard of women's health. This is clearly proven by the many letters we are continually publishing in this paper from women who have been restored to health and happiness by it, as after years of suffering. Why don't you try it?

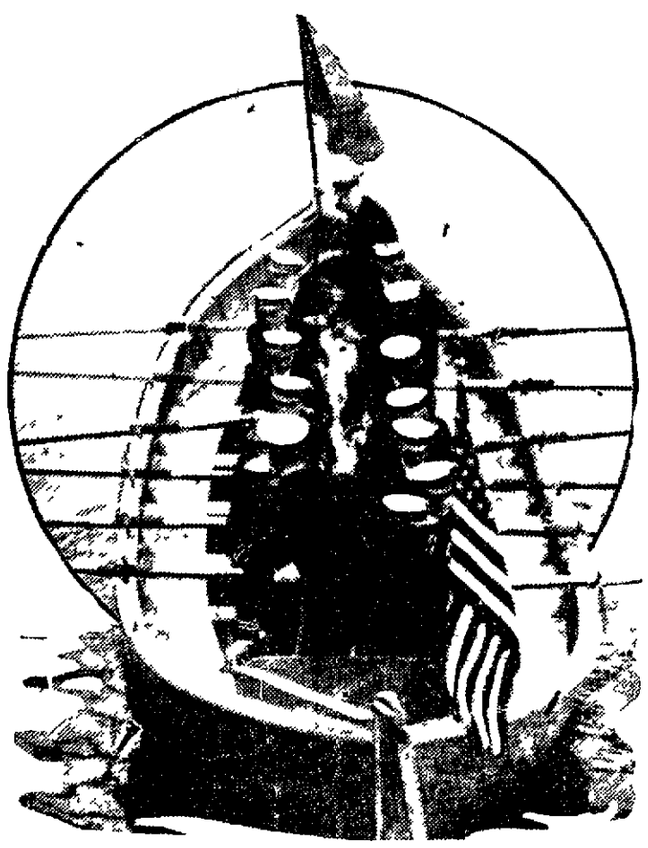
When a Captain Becomes Admiral



The captain's gig and the admiral's barge were replaced by a whale boat rowed by commissioned officers when Captain A. J. Zeglemeier left the U. S. S. California at Bremerton, Wash., to become an admiral. This manner of taking a departing officer ashore is one of the highest compliments in naval tradition.
